

12 I saye vnto you: It shalbe easier for Sodome in that daye, then for that cite.

13 Wo vnto the Chorazin, wo vnto the Bethsaida: for yf the miracles which haue bene done amonge you had bene done at Tyre and Sidon, they had done pennaunce longe agoo, syttinge in sack cloth and in asshes.

14 Neuertheles it shalbe easier for Tyre and Sidon at the iudgment, then for you.

15 And thou Capernaum which art exalted vnto the heauen, shalt be thrust downe vnto hell.

16 He that heareth you, heareth me: and he that despyseth you, despyseth me: but who so despyseth me, despyseth him yt sent me.

17 The seuetye came agayne with ioye, and sayde: LORDE, the deuels also are subdued vnto vs in thy name.

18 But he sayde vnto them: I sawe Sathan fall downe from heauen as a lightenyng.

19 Beholde, I haue geuen you power to treade vpon serpetes and scorpions, and ouer all power of the enemye, and nothinge shall hurte you.

20 Neuertheles, reioyce not ye in this, that the spretes are subdued vnto you: but reioyce, that youre names are wrytten in heauen.

21 At the same houre reioysed Iesus in sprete, and sayde: I prayse the (O father and LORDE of heauen and earth) that thou hast hyd these thinges from the wyse and prudent, and hast opened them vnto babes. Euen so father, for so it pleased the.

22 All thinges are geuen ouer vnto me of my father: and no man knoweth who the sonne is, but onely the father: nether who the father is, saue onely the sonne, and he to who the sonne wil open it.

23 And he turned him vnto his disciples, and sayde in especiall: Blessed are the eyes, which se that ye se.

24 For I saye vnto you: Many prophetes and kynges, wolde haue sene the thynges that ye se, and haue not sene them: and to haue herde the thynges that ye heare, and haue not herde them.

25 And beholde, there stode vp a scribe and tempted him, and sayde: Master, what must I do, to inheret euerlastinge life?

26 He sayde vnto him: What is wrytten in the lawe? How readest thou?

27 He answered and sayde: Thou shalt loue thy LORDE God with all thy hert, with all thy soule, with all thy strength, and with all thy mynde, and thy neighbour as thy self.

28 He sayde vnto him: Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt lyue.

29 But he wolde haue iustified himself, & sayde vnto Iesus: Who is then my neighbour?

30 Then answered Iesus, and sayde: A certayne man wente downe from Ierusalem vnto Iericho, and fell amonge murthurers, which stryped him out of his clothes, and wounded him, and wente their waye, and left him half deed.

31 And by chauce there came downe a prest the same waye: and whan he sawe him, he passed by.

32 And likewise a Leuite, wha he came nye vnto the same place and sawe him, he passed by.

33 But a Samaritane was goynge his iourney, and came that waye, and whan he sawe him, he had compassion vpon him,

34 wente vnto him, bounde vp his woundes, and poured oyle and wyne therin, and lifte him vp vpon his beast, and brought him in to the ynne, and made prouysion for him.

35 Vpon the next daye whan he departed, he toke out two pens, and gaue them to the oost, aud sayde vnto him: Take cure of him, and what so euer thou spendest more, I wil paye it the, whan I come agayne.

36 Which of these thre now thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him, that fell amonge the murthurers?

37 He sayde: He that shewed mercy vpon him Then sayde Iesus vnto him: Go thy waye then, and do thou likewise.

38 It fortunated as they wete, that he entred in to a towne, where there was a woman named Martha, which receaued him in to hir house.

39 And she had a sister, called Mary, which sat hir downe at Iesus fete, and herkened vnto his worde.

40 But Martha made hirself moch to do, for to serue him. And she stepte vnto him, and sayde: LORDE, carest thou not, that my sister letteth me serue alone? Byd her therefore, that she helpe me.

41 But Iesus answered, and sayde vnto her: Martha Martha, thou takest thought, and combrest thy self aboute many thinges:

42 there is but one thinge nedefull. Mary hath chosen a good parte, which shal not be taken awaye from her.

Luke 11

1 And it fortunated that he was in a place, and prayed. And whan he had ceased, one of his disciples sayde vnto him: LORDE, teach vs to praye, as Ihon also taught his disciples.

2 He sayde vnto the: Whan ye praye, saye: O oure father which art in heauen, halowed be thy name. Thy kyngdome come. Thy wil be fulfilled vpon earth, as it is in heauen.

3 Geue vs this daye oure daylie bred.

4 And forgeue vs oure synnes, for we also forgeue all them that are detters vnto vs. And lede vs not in to temptacion, but delyuer vs from euell.

5 And he sayde vnto them: Which of you is it that hath a frende, and shulde go to him at mydinght, and saye vnto him: frende, lende me thre loaues,

6 for a frende of myne is come to me out of the waye, and I haue nothinge to set before him:

7 and he within shulde answere and saye: Disquyete me not, the dore is shutt already, and my children are with me in the chamber, I can not ryse, and geue the.

8 I saye vnto you: and though he wolde not aryse and geue him, because he is his frende, Yet because of his vnshamefast begginge he wolde aryse, and geue him as many as he neded.

9 And I saye vnto you also: Axe, and it shal be geuen you: Seke, and ye shal fynde: knocke, and it shalbe opened vnto you.

10 For who so euer axeth, receaueth: and he that seketh, fyndeth: and to him that knocketh, shal it be opened.

11 Yf the sonne axe bred of eny of you that is a father, wyl he geue him a stone therefore? Or yf he axe a fysshe, wyl he for the fish offre him a serpent?

12 Or yf he axe an egg, wyl he profer him a scorpion?

13 Yf ye then which are euell, can geue youre children good giftes, how moch more shal the father of heauen geue the holy sprete vnto them that axe him?

14 And he droue out a deuell that was domme: and it came to passe whan the deuell was departed out, the domme spake, and the people wondred.

15 But some of them sayde: He dryueth out the deuels, thorow Beelzebub the chefe of the deuels.

16 The other tempted him, and desyred a token of him from heauen.

17 But he knewe their thoughtes, and sayde vnto them: Eury kyngdome deuyded within it self, shal be desolate, and one house shal fall vpo another.
