

A N

Historical ACCOUNT

Of the Several

English Translations

O F T H E

B I B L E.

NE Thing censured by the Church of Rome in our Reformation, is, The committing so much Heavenly Treasure to such rotten Vessels, the trusting so much excellent Wine, to such musty Bottles ; I mean, the Version of the Scriptures into the usual Languages of the common People, and the promiscuous Liberty indulged them therein. This they charge as an Innovation of a dangerous Consequence. But the constant Current of Antiquity does affirm the contrary, which plainly shews,

B

that